

Overview

The Fellowship's neuroscience-based curriculum and network of industry experts helped Latino professionals step deeper into their potential as leaders and influencers. Through multiple personal assessments, success partners, and a feedback loop, the Fellowship weaved together identity, expertise, and applied leadership themes into intensive learning.

Faced with the myriad of 2020 challenges, the Fellowship moved quickly and made the successful transition from an immersive, in-person program to an immersive, virtual program. Cohort 9, determined to grow as leaders for their communities and causes, committed to continuing the Fellowship, supporting each other, and mapping out their leadership futures together beyond this year. Honorable Federico Peña helped culminate this experience by delivering the graduation keynote, passing on 7 consejos to help guide Cohort 9 through inevitable challenges and opportunities.

2021 welcomes Cohort 10, an impressive group of leaders who will come together virtually from around Colorado to continue their leadership journey.
